City of Duluth lifts boil water advisory for affected residents of upper Lakeside neighborhood; test results confirm no contamination present

[DULUTH, MN] The City of Duluth is lifting the precautionary boil water advisory issued yesterday for select residents in the upper Lakeside neighborhood. Test results confirm that no biological or bacterial contamination has entered the water system and that the drinking water remains safe to consume. The precautionary boil water notice is ended effective immediately.

The City of Duluth thanks the affected residents for their patience and compliance with this precautionary measure.
