The final Chester Creek Concert of the season will be held on Tuesday, August 20th 6:30-8:00 PM featuring the popular band the Pot Bellied Stallions. The Pot Bellied Stallions have been playing in the Duluth/Superior area for over 25 years. They feature Maxine Rhodes (Miss Minnesota Country 1994) on lead vocals as well as the multi-talented Steve Maida on vocals, keyboards & guitar.

Dave Patterson: Drums, Vocals is loaded with personality and is the drummer, or the necessary evil, depending on your perspective. Maxine Rhodes: Vocals, Bass, Keyboards, Percussion hails from St. Paul, Minnesota. She is a lovely and talented performer who always pleases the crowd. Max was named Miss Minnesota Country Music in 1994. Before the “Stallions” she was with the very popular Northland group, “Maxine & The Rusty Pickups”. Steve Maida: Keyboards, Guitar, Vocals is a member of the “Musical Maida Family”. A great performer, Steve can impersonate everyone from Ozzie Osborne to Joe Cocker. Steve is the heart and soul of the Stallions, giving his all during each performance.
